Information about Community “Rocks”

Let's add some community joy by painting rocks and hiding them in our community. Once rocks are found you can keep and replace or rehide. Awesome project to share with family, friends and neighbors.

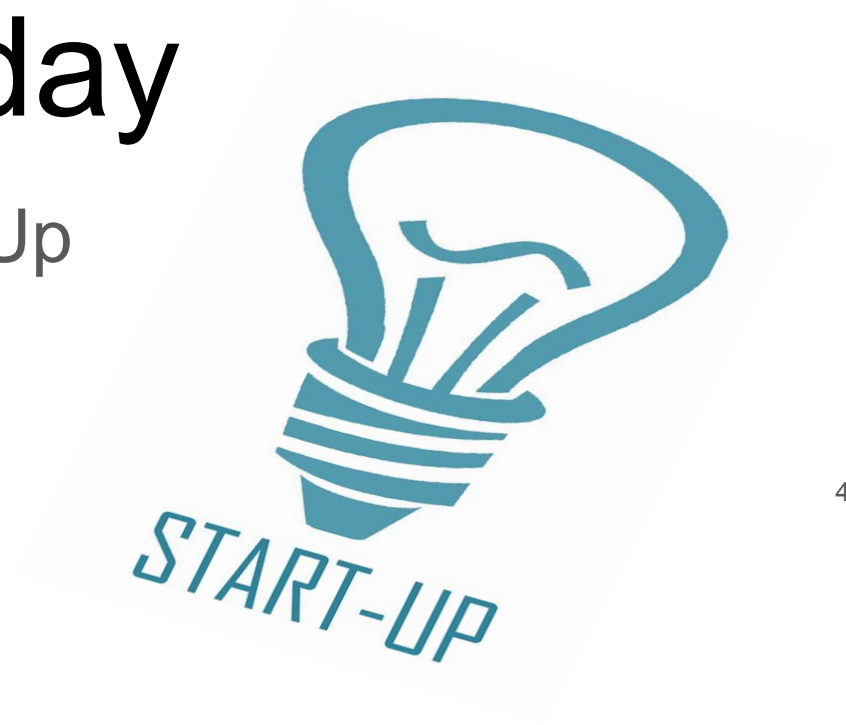

Tips for successful painting, hiding and hunting painted rocks.

1. Always be mindful of the environment and respectful of the community guidelines that already exist.
2. Do not add/attach anything to the rocks, as there is no guarantee that it will stay on and not become litter or swallowing hazards for children or wildlife.
3. This is a gifting project. Remember this is about gifting and not always expecting to find a rock or get recognition when yours is found.
4. Do not hide rocks in national parks or state parks, on private property, or cemeteries. Do not hide rocks in grass where they could damage lawn mowers.
5. Pinterest and Facebook are great places to find inspiration for colorful creations and creative messages.
6. Have fun and spread kindness throughout our community!

Monday

Start-Up

Instructions Day 1

1. Use the template to create and design your rocks prior to painting. Try out different ideas and sayings to determine what you like best.
2. Think about our community and how special it is and how important it is to express kindness to those around you. Some ideas could include a positive message to make others feel good, a thank you to community workers, and love/peace in times of the unknown.
3. We have a lot going on in our world around us, so think BIG and KIND and show others how much you care.
4. See the examples on the next page or search out positive messages that fit your style.
